Despite the pandemic, NML will complete the year having hosted one in-person speaker event, four virtual events, a Language Trivia Night fundraiser, and kicked off exciting new initiatives aimed at supporting language teachers and learners.

As other museums attempt to transition to virtual exhibits and online events, NML is being recognized as a leading virtual language museum. We went virtual early - in 2013.

Collaborators are reaching out to us to explore new paths that further our mission: to inspire an appreciation for the magic and beauty of language.

What's in store for next year?
